I cannot see the event I just created when I login as a candidate.

Problem: I just created an event and logged in as an eligible candidate but the event is not visible. Likely Cause(s): This is due to our group searchable set functionality. When you create an event, interview, mock, workshop, advising appointment, mock interview, job, company, or recruiter; you will not see this until twenty minutes after its been created, this helps us regulate web traffic. NOTE: This will only work on the recruiter, candidate and admin dashboard. Moreover, this will only work for admins logged in as candidates and recruiters. Resolution: If your logged in as a candidate and want to skip the wait, click the Powered by MBAFocus icon on the dashboard and the occurrence you've created will be visible.
