

Does the # Matches column for the jobs export include agent emails

Article Number: 903 | Rating: Unrated | Last Updated: Dec 18, 2013 at 4:06 PM

Question: When a job is included in a job match email is it included the "# Matches" count column in the job export? Answer: Yes, when a job is included in a job match agent email it is considered a match and is added to the count in the "# Matches" column on the jobs export. NOTE: This column is a hard coded column available on the export sheet when exporting jobs.
